#615: Ingenious or Un-Genius?

You're down there on the deck and you want to be up there. Simply take what is known aboard the ships of the U.S. fishing fleet as a "fish tote," old nylon line, a couple half-hitches, and a pair of 2-by-4s. Rub-a-dub-dub, you have a man lift.

Not only that, but if a line breaks and it falls into the water, it becomes a boat! Talk about versatile.
